Varna

The boy's varan is Shudra while the girl belongs to Brahmin varan. The boy's temperament may be somewhat indifferent at times, which may make her feel isolated in many ways. She may consider herself superior to him so often. This could cause resentment in their relationship. As far as domestic affairs are concerned, they both will have their individual thoughts and approach things differently. This is not a very conducive alliance. However, if other gunas are matched, then this union may be taken into consideration.

Vashya

The boy's vashya is Jalchar and the girl comes under Keet vashya. This combination indicates a psychic link between the natives. They may have intuitive, sympathetic insight into each others moods, feelings and emotional conditioning. They will stimulate each other imagination and share many esthetic and psychological perceptions and feelings. They will support each other's need for privacy and sanctuary. The boy can provide the girl with domestic security and the girl's intuitive insight may prove helpful to the boy.

Tara

The boy's tara is Mitra and the girl comes under Vipat tara. This is a good combination. In this relationship, the boy will turnout to more sensible and matured. She will put his best efforts to maintained very good relations. In turn, the girl may play a subdued role and at times, find herself confused to take the right decisions. She is advised to be more practical in her approach. However, both tara's match well. They will also develop liking for each other in a due course of time.

Yoni Kuta

The boy's yoni is Simha and the girl comes under Mrig yoni. A lasting and co-operative match. Both are full of life and are demonstrative people, who may find real joy in their union. The girl is loyal, honest and sincere enough to follow the boy's excellent vibrations. She will be impressed by his intelligent, high spirited and thoughtful ways. While he loves her sense of humor, reason and logic. The girl is realistic enough to understand and accept the boy's short comings, while he will not take offence at her simple, observant and straightforward manners. Physically, it may prove to be a satisfying union.

Graha Maitri

The boy and the girl both comes under Saturn's lordship. The natives have compatible attitudes toward handling business, financial, educational and professional affairs. The natives will bring out each other's qualities of patience, hard work, prudence and fore thought. The natives' adherence to principle and mutual responsibility will make them steady and loyal friends. The natives can further each other's determination and resolve to achieve social and professional goals and status through their careful and systematic planning.

Gana

The boy's gan is Manushya and the girl comes under Rakshasha gan. A difficult combination, this often results in arguments and heated disagreements. The natives are likely to view each other as a threat to one's status and authority while dealing with each other. The boy may feel that the girl's behaviour is too rough and tough at times. He will also feels that she is stubborn up to certain extent. In turn, she may feel that the boy is not practical in his approach and lacks sincerity. However, This alliance may be taken into consideration, if other guans are matched well.

Rasi

The boy's bhakoot rasi is Kumbha and the girl comes under Vrishchika bhakoot. This is a very good combination as far as bhakoot compatibility is concerned. The boy can help the girl to use more discipline, organization and caution in carrying out actions and ambitions. The girl can help the boy to be more courageous and energetic in implementing plans, goals and in over coming fear and negativity. This combination also strengthen the over all compatibility in the charts.

Nadi

The boy's nadi is Aadi and the girl also comes under the same nadi. Since, both constellation falls under the same nadi, which is not a healthy combination for the longevity of the wedding life. However, even if the both constellations are identical but in different charan or pad, there would be no danger whatsoever. In this context, one can always go for alliance without giving second thought to the proposal.
