We like to think of the Life Path as a 'seed' that is planted on the day of birth that holds your accumulated wisdom. maybe you could call this your 'heritage' since it is much like a record that you can rely on for beating into your natural talents and abilities. As you become conscious of this part of our personality, life seems to become more uncomplicated. If more parents understood their children's Life Path, it would be a great deal easier to offer direction and help to build self-esteem.

Systems refer to this part of your nature as the Birth Force or Birth Path. Despite what you call it, its meaning stays the same. It is what you will constantly have on hand. Your Life Path is one of your supreme possessions. You can always count on this part of your nature to be there for you. We frequently find that the Life Path traits often emerge as opportunities, challenges, and lessons. We are learning how to hold the qualities of the Life path in a balanced way.

Your Life Path Number is : 4

You are a very realistic, sensible individual with strong ideas about what's right and what's wrong. You are orderly and prepared, methodical and controlled. You are decisive and disciplined, with a slowly balanced approach to problem solving. Once you are devoted to something you do not quit easily!

You are not the type to be interested in "get rich quick" schemes. You would rather use hard work and long hours to construct a business or career -- you seek to create a firm foundation. Particular, persistent and adamant, you have great potential for success, but only after putting out effort and overcoming the boundaries you so frequently come across. Righteousness and sincerity are sacred to you. You are trustworthy and dependable, a foundation of the community.

Though not an idealist, you are eager to work for a better world in a reasonable way. Nevertheless, you can be firm in your ideas and every so often too quick to judge your fellow man. You are loyal to those you love and you have no problem working with others. It is essential that at the same time as being part of a team you have your own accountability and distinct task. You achieve things better when your tasks are not overlapping with those of others. You must be careful not to be bossy and rude.

You have rare obedience and determination and not everyone can keep up with you. When it comes to handling money you are very good at it and careful as well. Your love of work most of the time leads you into a career early in life. Because of your meticulous personality you can simply become rigid and trapped in convention. You can also be overly cautious when changes are needed. This can cause you to miss out on opportunities that present themselves. You must learn to develop flexibility in your character.

You are an appropriate individual for marriage and often turn out to be a responsible loving parent. On the other hand, anything that violates your intuitive sense of organization, such as separation or separation can be a devastating experience for you.

You easily become infatuated and even resentful, in search of your own explanation of righteousness. You are very brave and a true survivor. You are a planner and the basis of any enterprise. Your hard work and sensible, conventional standards pay off to offer you the rewards you seek out and ought to have.

Your Expression number reveals your corporal and mental constitution, and the orientation or goals of your life. It is referred to as the Destiny number by many numerologists, due to the fact that it represents a lifelong target at which you are aiming for.

Therefore, the Expression number reveals your inner goal and the person your aiming to be. The Expression number also reveals the talents, abilities, and shortcomings that you were born with. Your name, and the numbers resulting from it, reveals your development, as well as the talents and issues you will be working with during this life.

Your Expression Number is : 5

You have a very liberated spirit and you enjoy change, exploration and thrill. You love to be free, like a bird that requires wings to live you cannot survive without freedom. Freedom is what your life revolves around, and by using it properly you are capable of exploring and developing your assortment of talents. Freedom is the necessary surroundings that you need to shine and generate your talents. You are able to do anything that you set out to do and you are quite good at it; but only if you avoid being imprisoned by a sense of false security are you able to produce your abilities.

You are bizarrely flexible; as a matter of fact change is like a blessing for you. Likewise you are in need of challenge and variety in your life. You despise routines and being stuck in situations is a tragedy for you. You are miserable and depressed when being held back or down. Life and all its entities have a consuming attraction for you. Since childhood up into adulthood you have always dreamed and imagined seeing foreign lands, experiencing the sensual and out of the ordinary.

You desire to try everything in life at least once; all of life is simply a playing field to your mind. This type of outlook on life can get you into lots of trouble. You may forget about your natural restrictions, either physically or communally. Boundaries are like abominations to you, which have the tendency to shade you to your natural confines, and may cause you to overindulge in certain desires such as sweets, food, alcohol, drugs, or sex. You possess the gift of communication, and your skill with words is immeasurable.

You have the ability to become a salesman, a politician, lawyer, public relations person, or minister. You also have the ability to allocate and progress new ideas, you're brilliant with your hands and love the new and unproven. You are somewhat of a gambler and like to play for tremendously high stakes. All of these characteristics come together to give you a childlike, contagious, and attractive enthusiasm in the eyes of others.

You enjoy working with others, yet you need to be able to perform the duty un-incumbered by the chains of others. When it comes to thinking abilities you are very intelligent and quick on your feet, yet you have scattered and unorganized thought patterns. If you desire success you must stay alert as well as grounded to achieve it. When it comes to love and relationships you fall in and out of love pretty often, particularly in your early years.

You have a strong sex drive and you are sensual by nature, which makes for a vivacious and stimulating love life. Nevertheless you must look out for shallow feelings and relationships.

Self-control and having healthy boundaries to follow is the key to success in almost every aspect of your life.

As luck would have it, you may find that as you learn to set suitable limits for yourself you will gain more self-mastery and achieve even greater amounts of freedom. This is especially the case when it comes to starting and finishing projects and endeavors.

You tend to give up easily when you feel that you have the job or project under control, and you get uninterested quickly. Your mind begins to wander off on thoughts of new challenges, or rewards of your fabulous accomplishments way before the work is completed. This Expression number wants the whole world, and you realize that you possess many talents that can convey lots of success and happiness in life. However this type of success depends solely on your eagerness to choose a particular area or field to ponder, and bringing it to perfection.

Your Minor Expression Number is : 5

Your short name adds considerable flexibility and versatility to your personality. You now enjoy more travel and adventure. You are more curious about people, new places, and seek out more excitement in life.

You are more dynamic and alive. New and original ideas come quicker to you. You are a good deal more creative. Your verbal skills are increased and your ability as a salesperson or promoter enhanced.

You suffer more when confined by restricted spaces or rigid rules. You yearn for greater freedom of movement and expression. You are more likely to strike out on your own, with your own ideas or methods.

Your Heart's Desire is sometimes called your Soul Urge, and is the inner you. It shows your underlying urge, your true motivation. It reveals the general intention behind many of your actions. Consequently, it dramatically influences the choices you make in life. The Heart's desire is seen as part of the larger picture, called the core numbers, which includes the Life Path, Expression, Day you were born, and Personality. But each points to a different aspect of you.

Your Aspiration Number is : 4

With the Soul Urge or Motivation number of 4 you are likely to strive for a stable life. You tend to follow a rather orderly pattern and systematic approach in your endeavors. You have an inner desire to serve others in a methodical and diligent manner. You want to be in solid, conventional, and well-regulated activities, and you are somewhat disturbed by innovation and erratic or sudden changes. Excellent at organizing, systematizing, and managing, you have a way of establishing order and maintaining it. You are responsible, reliable and in the final analysis, practical. Highly analytical, you can see your way through all sorts of situations and generally have a clear understanding of the issues. You are a very honest, sincere, and conscientious individual.

The negative side of the 4 is rigid, stubborn and somewhat narrow-minded. There is a tendency to hide feelings, or to really not be aware of real feelings. Avoid being too rigid and stubborn in your thinking, and try to always see the big picture rather than becoming too involved with the detail. Don't be afraid to take a chance once in awhile.

Your Minor Aspiration Number is : 5

Your shortened name motivates you to search for more freedom and adventure in your life. You have the desire to become less conventional and more unique. Your natural born intelligence and thoughts are enhanced. You are more energetic, passionate, and flexible. You attract more exhilaration into your life. It is easier to become accustomed to changes with this Minor Heart's Desire.

Your Personality number is derived from the consonants of your full name. Your Personality is like a narrow entrance to the enormous hall of your nature. The narrow entrance to the cave is those aspects of your personality that you feel comfortable sharing with others at the outset of a relationship.

With time and trust, you allow them to go deeper into your nature; you reveal more of who you are. , in effect, your Heart's Desire, Expression, and so on. number often serves as a censoring device, both in terms of what you send out, as well as what you allow to approach. It discriminates in the kinds of people and information you let enter your heart and mind.

For this reason, your Personality is usually much more restricted than the real you. It can spurn things or people whom you do not like, and welcome those whom you like and related to. Unfortunately, this narrow entrance is the first impression people get of you. It either welcomes or intrigues them, or it causes them to lose interest.

Your Personality Number is : 0

Your Minor Personality Number is : 5

Others see you as versatile and creative, though a little rash and prone to mistakes. You have a passion for indulgence and curbing this tendency will go a long way in helping you achieve your life's objectives. You seek excitement and balance and can adapt to circumstances easily.

The first letter of your name (given to you at birth) is what's called a Cornerstone. It particularly describes your way of approaching opportunities and obstacles throughout your lifetime. The last letter of your first name called a Capstone shows your demeanor towards completing projects that you begin; together the Capstone and Cornerstone can tell you your capability of successfully completing projects.

Your Cornerstone Number is : 1 (s)

When you work on projects you are very energetic; you automatically know what needs to be done and you put together a plan so fast it makes everyone else's head spin.

Your Capstone Number is : 1 (a)

You have a problem when it comes to completing projects that you begin. You are definitely a creative individual with a knack for planning things out, but in no way are you interested in work and responsibility.

Your Planes of Expression (Mental) Number is : 5

Your mind is very swift and adaptable; you are a very self-motivated and resourceful individual. You have no problem gripping onto large quantities of information quickly making sure to retain the important points. You are very impatient when it comes to routines and you would rather be involved in several projects at the same time. If forced to conform to a certain routine you will most likely rebel against the authority.

Your Planes of Expression (Physical) Number is : 0

Your Planes of Expression (Emotional) Number is : 4

You are very doubtful when it comes to your emotions; you would very much like to control them. You have a tendency to have an aversion to any type of emotional circumstances. You love order but can cause yourself lots of irritation or even nervous tension through repression of emotions. You are very detail oriented and have a knack for managing and organizing. Sometimes you pointlessly accept hostile circumstances and relationships, which should be avoided at all costs.

Your Planes of Expression (Intuitive) Number is : 1

You are very spontaneous with a hint of insight from time to time. Most likely you point most of your thoughts to your psychological capabilities, but truth be told your insights come from some other superior source.

Your Maturity number reveals an essential wish or desire that gradually surfaces around the ages of thirty to thirty-five. This underlying goal begins to appear as you achieve a better understanding of yourself. With self-knowledge comes a better consciousness of who you are, what your true goals in life are, and what route you want to situate for your life. This, in a nutshell, is the reward of maturity: You no longer waste time and energy on things that are not within your own special identity.

Now during your current age, your life is being channeled in a definite direction, toward a very specific goal. That goal can be seen as a reward or the completion of a promise that is implied in your current efforts, often without your knowing it willfully. While the distinctiveness of this number is usually visible during childhood, we have the tendency to lose sight of these aspects until later in life.

However our lives are always being affected by this influence, no matter what. This Number begins to have a more intense impact on your life after the age of 35. The influence of the number increases little by little as you grow older.

Your Maturity Number is : 9

Your concern for the well being of society will grow more powerful as you come to maturity. You will be drawn to doing much public service. The long-term good of your community and even the world will occupy your thoughts increasingly.

As you mature, your appreciation for the arts and beauty in any form will also increase. It is quite possible that you will be actively involved in the arts, if that is not already the case, often as a benefactor.

Service to humanity is fundamental to your life. You will grow in understanding and wisdom as you mature. Involvement with international affairs or humanitarian service offers you much satisfaction.

If you already have several 9s in your chart, especially among the core numbers, you will have to guard against conceit, coldness, and unfriendliness.

If you have few 9s in your chart, or none at all, you will achieve a sense of your personal place among civilization. You will feel you fit in and that you have given something of lasting value for the future.

You can easily recognize your Personal Year and get benefited from it. Have you ever noticed how during some years you felt very restless and eager to begin new undertakings? How you were content to stay at home or with your work during some years. There might have been a year when you felt like letting go of all that you possessed.

This is what your Personal Year can do to you. We live our lives on a certain rhythm. There is a time to start a new task or to end an old one. Every year's rhythm is based on the vibrations of 1 to 9.

The Personal Year is most helpful when you are stuck at a decision or when you want to know the probability of certain events. Personal Years run in tandem. Each year you work through one of the nine Personal Years. They start on January 1st and continue through to Dec 31st. At the end of the year, you begin a new Personal Year. For example, if you are in the 9 Personal Year this year, on January 1st you will enter the 1 Personal Year. There are individual Personal Year vibrations and there is one Universal Year that describes the general planetary vibrations during the entire year.

Your Personal Year Number is : 4

The previous year's frivolity will now be truly forgotten, as the facts of life are clearly spelled out. This is a year of hard work when you must take to the task at hand. A year of sowing seeds for a good harvest. For that you will need tremendous self-control.

In many ways, this is a frustrating year, where you make considerable efforts, but they fail to produce fruitful results. One step forward and two steps back may seem to be the case at times. But don't lose hope; persistence will get you where you want to be.

This is an organizational period, and you must closely scrutinize your current and past performances. It is a good time to get organized and see things as they really are.

Your responsibilities will increase, thereby increasing the efforts and the hard work needed to meet them.

You will need to keep your diet in check, as your body resistance may be low and you might become susceptible to ailments. Eat healthy and stay fit should be your motto. A tidying up of affairs should take place to get ready for a hectic year ahead.

We are all born with strengths and we're all born with weaknesses. What numerology does is it looks at life as an instructive progression that is meant to make our talents stand out and shine, as well as convert our weaknesses into strengths. This helps our desire of being complete, or becoming whole. The only way this can be accomplished is by facing our weaknesses and deliberately working to improve ourselves. In our lives there are four challenges that we must face. For most of us the same challenge is repeated over and over, while others have four obviously different lessons to learn.

If you provide precise lessons that you must learn on your life's path, then in order to help, guide and inspire you life will put you in predicaments that will require particular characteristics of your Challenge numbers. You will be influenced throughout the course of your life by the challenges you are forced to overcome, except for the Third or the Main challenges which are with you from birth to death. The fluid periods of your life are when the challenges occur, not restricted to specific years, more so general periods of your life. At birth all your challenges are present, like actors standing in the wings.

The first letter of your name (given to you at birth) is what's called a Cornerstone. It particularly describes your way of approaching opportunities and obstacles throughout your lifetime. The last letter of your first name called a Capstone shows your demeanor towards completing projects that you begin; together the Capstone and Cornerstone can tell you your capability of successfully completing projects.

Your First Challenge is : 2

At the time of overreaction you tend to become very insensitive which is then followed by feelings of remorse. You seem to have a bit of paranoia, due to the fact that you can be going your own merry way when all of a sudden you begin to get the feeling that people are out to get you. You also begin to believe that no one appreciates you, which leads to petty revenge and then loneliness followed by the feeling of being an outcast.

TO CONQUER THE No. 2 CHALLENGE: You must come clean with the fact that you have a sensitive nature and that you desire to express that nature. You are a really lovable type of person who tends to get exhausted by keeping up with other peoples requirements. Try to let things flow and present yourself to others in much smaller doses. Let it be known that you do not want to find yourself in a financial bind so you are not the one show off with big gestures. You are adamant when it comes to addressing the details in life; try to convert from noticing the petty details to noticing the gratitude that comes your way, either through smiles or winks.

Your Second Challenge is : 8

When it comes to working you are a bouncy individual, and you work very hard to get your work done. When you are on the verge of overreaction you become greedy and arrogant. Like all the rest of us you need to take a step back and learn some skills, which will permit you to move forward. If you are not pleased with the outcome of your detours, you transform into a bully with a bitter demeanor.

TO CONQUER THE No. 8 CHALLENGE:

You must admit that you have a primary requirement for financial security. If you persistently build your skills and talents, you will put together the status you require. You must slow down just enough to go back and create checks on how you are progressing so far and how you can develop innovative and creative ways for material gain. Your burning drive alone will not conquer all your problems and mishaps. Taking time to utilize patience as a tool, will allow you to take the steps that leads to the life that you truly desire.

Your Third Challenge is : 6

When overreacting you become cold and take on a bit too much responsibility. Your intentions are good but you have trouble saying no. You approach people with an outlook that you can take care of their wishes. Soon you begin to feel used and offended which causes you to give up on your duties and others begin to resent you.

TO CONQUER THE No. 6 CHALLENGE:

You should acknowledge the fact that you have the desire for shared interaction. You must learn that all of us including yourself must go through chaos in order to mature in life. You have most likely learned that being a control freak will not produce harmony. Go along with your heart instead of using your head sometimes, and you may receive a little more respect from those around you. Use your gift of imagination to help other people learn to appreciate their good points.

Your Fourth Challenge is : 6

When overreacting you become cold and take on a bit too much responsibility. Your intentions are good but you have trouble saying no. You approach people with an outlook that you can take care of their wishes. Soon you begin to feel used and offended which causes you to give up on your duties and others begin to resent you.

TO CONQUER THE No. 6 CHALLENGE:

You have most likely learned that being a control freak will not produce harmony. Go along with your heart instead of using your head sometimes, and you may receive a little more respect from those around you. Use your gift of imagination to help other people learn to appreciate their good points.

Period Cycle (Early Years) : 3

The 3 is an outstanding life path period for a young person due to its leaning toward the development of expression. Any talents you possess in artistic or imaginative activities are encouraged throughout this period. Emotions may be high and energetic tendencies can be present. Building friendships and enjoying social interactions will come easily now. Enjoy life, as this is the pitch of the 3 period, but be cautious not to spread out your activities to the point that you fail to make on anything.

Period Cycle (Productive Years) : 1

In this period you will have more force and willpower on account of the 1 life path period. If you have additional indicators that you would do well in business for yourself, this life path period would be time to shift in that direction. Your behavior now is extremely independent and your leadership skills are sharpened. The probable pitfalls here are letting your sense of self go a little wild and possibly showing a lack of endurance from time to time.

Period Cycle (Later Years) : 9

The 9 period in the later years commonly signifies a matured and cheerful life at this point in time. You are prone to a positive outlook towards the world, and you will want to allocate your experiences to a greater degree. You may engage in many constructive works benefiting mankind or just a few disadvantaged souls in your instant surroundings. The message of the number is learning how to give without expecting something in return. If you have learned this by now, this period may perhaps be the finest part of your life.

The Pinnacles are four long-term cycles or periods. Each Pinnacle represents a particular stage of our life. The first Pinnacle usually lasts from birth to between the ages of 30 to 35 (your specific Pinnacle periods are provided below). The next two Pinnacles lasts for nine years each. The last Pinnacle will stay with you for your remaining life. The transition from one Pinnacle to the next is always strongly felt.

Your Pinnacles reveal the general conditions and events you will experience during a period. The Pinnacle describes the atmosphere or the essential challenge you will be faced with. You can prepare yourself for the times ahead by knowing your approaching Pinnacle number. Two years before the transition to the next Pinnacle, you can feel the change. You are likely to make some huge decisions like marriage, job change, career change etc. Internally as well as externally, you will see major changes when there is a change from the first to the second Pinnacle.

This change usually takes place in your late 20s or early 30s -- the exact date depends on your Life Path number. This is usually a difficult transition, but once crossed, provides you with a clear sense of direction. It also gives you a much stronger sense of your identity. It is a gateway to maturity.

Your First Pinnacle : 4

With the number 4 influence in your first pinnacle, this can be a demanding period for you. You are required to work early in life due to financial crisis. It can also be that you are a highly motivated person in pursuit of education so that you do not get time to indulge in youthful activities because of your work schedule.

Your Second Pinnacle : 1

Due to the combined energies of the second and the third pinnacle in number 1, aggressiveness becomes apparent in your nature. Your ability to develop your talents can be limited only by your own weaknesses.

Your achievements will be apparent to the public. You will be recognized for the good work you do. Your tremendous sense of independence makes you take up the role of a leader.

Your Third Pinnacle : 5

You make progress and achieve your objectives because of your ability to handle matters in a difficult situation. Your adaptability and flexibility is praiseworthy. The sense of freedom that you have now is very significant in marking you as an independent and a strong person. But you should not burn too many bridges because of your need for freedom, travel, and adventure.

Your Fourth Pinnacle : 3

There is a good possibility that you will travel, and indulge in social activities. This transit usually promises freedom from financial worry in later years. While you may feel a little lazy, this is a time when you can be at your creative best.

Often ignored by numerologists, I consider this an important aspect of the chart. Your Rational Thought number reveals what can best be described as 'the way you think'. Are you a practical, methodical thinker or a dreamer? Do you frequently allow your imagination to color reality? Are you unconventional and original in the face of a practical problem, or do you stick to proven methods? These are the kinds of information that your Rational Thought number reveals.

Your Rational Thought : 6

You are a listener. You generally judge things by the effect it has on others. Your observation power is unmatched. When trying to find solutions, you focus on details, forgetting the larger picture. You have a fair sense of justice that is why many people in the legal field have this number.

You have few equals when it comes to understanding the feelings of deprived children, old people or those who are disabled. You are a natural defender of those who cannot defend themselves. Depending on the core-numbers of your chart, you may want to consider a career in the legal field or in teaching and healing.

People experience different internal responses to life's challenges. Some withdraw from difficult situations to think them through; others withdraw from their emotions, to try and keep themselves from feeling anything. Some explode with emotions, but allow the explosion to pass quickly. Others linger with their feelings, holding on to them well past the time they should have let them go., these are conditioned or emotional responses that emerge without thought or analysis. Maturity and self-development help us to learn new and more effective methods of handling our world and the problems we confront. Your Balance number provides you with the guidance on how best to deal with difficult or threatening situations.

Your Balance Number : 2

Use tact and diplomacy. Be less emotional. Be courageous in your approach to the solution you seek, rather than backing away from problem because you fear confrontation. Work hard to diffuse tension; your innate talent is to find a mutually satisfying solution to all. You are willing to compromise.

Be more optimistic and lighthearted. Try not to blow problems out of proportion. You are overly sensitive and have to work to be more balanced.

Balance and harmony are there for you the minute you apply yourself to any problem. You can be the peacemaker.

The Subconscious Self reflects the confidence you have in your power and competence as well as in your ability to deal with sudden events and situations. It shows your capacity to correctly assess a situation and to respond appropriately.

Your Subconscious Self Number :6

You like to help others to such an extent that sometimes you do not pay enough attention to your own needs. For you, your home and family comes first. You radiate love and genuine concern for others. During times of distress you turn to your family and friends for support. You are responsible and willing to sacrifice for others.

The day you were born bears great significance in understanding who you are and where your talents lie. The day of birth indicates some special talent you possess. It is a gift to you that will help you along your life's path. Your day of birth is one of your five core numbers, but perhaps the most finite in that it reveals a specific ability that you possess in a marked degree.

Your Birthday Number is : 10

You are highly ambitious and yearn for independence. You possess leadership abilities, and a strong drive for success. Your test in life is to live according to your dream -- that is, to have the courage and the stamina to overcome obstacles and win the independence you so deeply want. You possess a sharp mind and fine analytical skills. You have excellent managerial skills. You plan well and can organize people to carry out your plan.

You are often frustrated by routine activities. You can become dull and even depressed if you are bound too tightly to the smaller details of life. In order to rescue yourself from such a fate, it will be necessary to take prudent risks. You must learn to assert yourself. You are a pioneer at heart. You must live up to such a charge.

You can be stubborn and rigid when it comes to ideas that you feel strongly about. Yet, you are a loyal and devoted friend and can be demonstrative of your affections. Conversely, you are highly competitive and can suffer from jealousy when it comes to the success of others, especially colleagues or friends. By using the determination and creativity you possess, you can achieve much success.

Your Hidden Passion shows one or more of the extraordinary strengths and talents that you possess. The Hidden Passion number represents your exact field of skill, or an intense talent. This talent can be looked at as having a power all its own to form your life. Its existence gives you a strong yearning to build up and to express that particular skill. Having the talent, demands that you express it, understand it, and that you live in relation to its nature. Thus, the Hidden Passion number molds your individuality, and guides your life.

Like nearly all stories, there are three enormous parts of our lives: The earliest, or opening period, which we find ourselves probing to stumble on our correct personality; simultaneously, we are trying to manage the powerful forces that are at hand in our atmosphere; our parents, and the socio-economic circumstances of our family, for instance. The subsequent sequence, or middle period of our lives, brings on the slow coming out of our individual and artistic talents. The primary part of this cycle -- the early and mid 30s -- represents a fight back to find our place in the world, while the late 30s, 40s, and early 50s, sees us with a greater degree of self-mastery and control over the atmosphere. The Third, or final Cycle, can symbolize a blossoming of our inner being, to the point our true nature has finally come to culmination. It is during this period that one has the maximum level of self-expression and control.
